In 1995, this collection was transferred and accessioned by the Oregon State Museum of Anthropology. No known individual was identified. No associated funerary objects were present.

Based on apparent age, locations, archeological context, and osteological evidence, these human remains have been determined to be Native American. Based on archeological evidence, these burials have been determined to date to within the last 2,000 years. Based on oral history, ethnographic and historic accounts, age and locations of the burials, these remains have been affiliated with the Burns Paiute Tribe of the Burns Paiute Indian Colony. Consultation with representatives of the Burns Paiute Tribe of the Burns Paiute Indian Colony also indicates that the area from which these burials were recovered is within the historic territory of the Burns Paiute Tribe of the Burns Paiute Indian Colony.

Based on the above mentioned information, officials of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service have determined that, pursuant to 43 CFR 10.2 (d)(1), the human remains listed above represent the physical remains of a minimum of 17 individuals of Native American ancestry. Officials of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service have also determined that, pursuant to 43 CFR 10.2 (d)(2), the 210 objects listed above are reasonably believed to have been placed with or near individual human remains at the time of death or later as part of the death rite or ceremony. Lastly, officials of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service have determined that, pursuant to 43 CFR 10.2 (e), there is a relationship of shared group identity which can be reasonably traced between these Native American human remains and associated funerary objects and the Burns Paiute Tribe of the Burns Paiute Indian Colony.

This notice has been sent to officials of the Burns Paiute Tribe of the Burns Paiute Indian Colony. OSM prepared and distributed a draft PED/EIS as required by Section 522(d) of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977 and the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. The draft PED/EIS evaluates the potential coal resources of the area, the demand for coal resources, and the impacts of alternative unsuitability decisions on the human environment, the economy, and the supply of coal.

A public hearing was held in Crossville, Tennessee, on June 18, 1998, to receive oral comments on the draft PED/EIS.

The original comment period opened on May 1, 1998, and closed July 30, 1998. Because of the public's continuing interest and concerns regarding the environmental and economic issues addressed in the PED/EIS, OSM is reopening the comment period as of August 21, 1998, and will close on September 16, 1998.
